Business Agility Bootstrap

"The Business Agility Bootstrap delivers a structured program to support the adoption of the skills and mindset required to become an agile enterprise."

OVERVIEW

This program rapidly delivers the fundamentals of agile, initially at a leadership team level, to ensure that concepts are embedded where change needs to start. Then, working with the individuals and teams charged with delivering business capability, we provide interactive training on the core technical and mindset skills required to support accurate, agile delivery.

APPROACH

Key to this program is the delivery of (selected by your business) project to take the provided training from the classroom into reality with the quenable team providing the right level of mentoring and support to support success whilst allowing for teams to explore and adopt their ways of working fit to your enterprise. This approach not only embeds the trained skills but also delivers real business capability.

BENEFITS

1. Enterprise wide focus

We initially focus on ensuring that sponsorship of the program is created within leadership to help map out and plan the initiative.

2. Make it yours

We believe that the core to adopting agile is understanding the mindset and core skills and then making it yours. There are certainly elements of agile that are non-negotiable, but we want to support you in adopting an agile way of working for your business, not just making you comply with a framework.

3. Learn by doing

After delivering the core skills required to understand what agile can offer, we put it to work by having the team select a project to run through delivering an actual project. quenable will be there to support and provide ongoing learning as you watch and learn a whole new way of delivering rapid value
